

Emerging Topics in Financial Economics

Third Symposium at the Division of Economics

Linköping University, Sweden
March 12-13, 2020

CONFERENCE VENUE

Economics Division,
Department of Management and
Engineering

Building A, Campus Valla;
Linköping University, Linköping

The objective of the workshop is to bring together academics, doctoral students and policymakers sharing interests in energy finance, energy transition, financial management, macro-finance, finTech and financial markets. It also provides a forum for presenting new research results or early preliminary results as well as discussing current and challenging issues in financial management and related topics.

The Economics Division at Linköping University warmly invites submissions to the 3rd symposium on Emerging Topics in Financial Economics. Particularly, contributions on the following topics:

LANGUAGE

English

PARTICIPATION FEE

None

We don't offer travel grant and accommodation.

Registration is required for participants

- Transition in energy market
- Business cycles and financial integration
- Macroeconomics and business cycle
- Economic uncertainty
- International financial markets
- Sustainable Finance
- Time series econometrics application in economics and finance

ORGANIZER

Gazi Salah Uddin
Ali Ahmed
Göran Hagg

You are cordially invited to submit your research papers (in English only and in PDF files) to the symposium that will take place on 12-13 March 2020 at the Linköping University. Authors are invited to submit their full papers no later than 15 February 2020 (gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se). Acceptance decisions will be announced by 1st of March.

SPECIAL ISSUES

Sustainability
Entropy

Each paper will be allocated 30 minutes, to be divided between the presentation (20 minutes), a discussion by an assigned workshop participant (5 minutes) and a general discussion (5 minutes).

SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Ali Ahmed, Linköping University
Ranadeva Jayasekera, Trinity College
Michal Rubaszek, Warsaw School of Economics
Anapum Datta, Vaasa University
Bo Sjö, Linköping University
Gazi Salah Uddin, Linköping University
Stelios Bekiros, European University Institute
Tapas Mishra, Southampton Business School
Andreas Stephan, Jönköping University
Victor Troster, Universitat de les Illes Balears
Juha Juntila, University of Jyväskylä

There is no workshop fee for paper presenters and discussants. Lunch will be provided only to presenter and discussants. On March 12th, there will be a joint informal dinner at own expenses.

Special Issues

This year organizers have the pleasure to offer participants the possibility to submit their work to the following two special issues;

CONTACT

gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se

Dinner registration (Fee €100)
Axel Hedström
E-mail: axel.hedstrom@liu.se
Deadline: 06 March 2020

Journal Name: Sustainability

Title: "Geopolitical Risk in Emerging Economies"

Submission via e-mail. E-mail: gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se /victor.troster@uib.es

Deadline: July 30, 2020

Journal Name: Entropy

Title: "Entropy, Network and information theory"

Submission via e-mail. gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se / stelios.bekiros@eui.eu

Deadline: July 30, 2020

The Division of Economics is part of the Department of Management and Engineering and carries out education and research within the field of economics. The Division of Economics gives courses in 11 different programs. Economics is a key area in the Business program, International Business program, Political Science program and the Master's program in Economics with specialization in applied microeconomic analysis and financial economics. The division also offers an Doctoral program in economics with first year mandatory courses including Mathematics, Microeconomic theory, Macroeconomic theory and specialized courses. The division conducts research in a vast number of areas such as financial economics, behavioral economics, environmental economics and labor economics.

Emerging Topics in Financial Economics

Third Symposium at the Division of Economics

Linköping University, Sweden
March 12-13, 2020

CONFERENCE VENUE

Economics Division,
Department of Management and
Engineering

Building A, Campus Valla;
Linköping University, Linköping

The objective of the workshop is to bring together academics, doctoral students and policymakers sharing interests in energy finance, energy transition, financial management, macro-finance, finTech and financial markets. It also provides a forum for presenting new research results or early preliminary results as well as discussing current and challenging issues in financial management and related topics.

The Economics Division at Linköping University warmly invites submissions to the 3rd symposium on Emerging Topics in Financial Economics. Particularly, contributions on the following topics:

LANGUAGE

English

PARTICIPATION FEE

None

We don't offer travel grant and accommodation.

Registration is required for participants

- Transition in energy market
- Business cycles and financial integration
- Macroeconomics and business cycle
- Economic uncertainty
- International financial markets
- Sustainable Finance
- Time series econometrics application in economics and finance

ORGANIZER

Gazi Salah Uddin
Ali Ahmed
Göran Hagg

You are cordially invited to submit your research papers (in English only and in PDF files) to the symposium that will take place on 12-13 March 2020 at the Linköping University. Authors are invited to submit their full papers no later than 15 February 2020 (gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se). Acceptance decisions will be announced by 1st of March.

SPECIAL ISSUES

Sustainability
Entropy

Each paper will be allocated 30 minutes, to be divided between the presentation (20 minutes), a discussion by an assigned workshop participant (5 minutes) and a general discussion (5 minutes).

SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Ali Ahmed, Linköping University
Ranadeva Jayasekera, Trinity College
Michal Rubaszek, Warsaw School of Economics
Anapum Datta, Vaasa University
Bo Sjö, Linköping University
Gazi Salah Uddin, Linköping University
Stelios Bekiros, European University Institute
Tapas Mishra, Southampton Business School
Andreas Stephan, Jönköping University
Victor Troster, Universitat de les Illes Balears
Juha Junntila, University of Jyväskylä

There is no workshop fee for paper presenters and discussants. Lunch will be provided only to presenter and discussants. On March 12th, there will be a joint informal dinner at own expenses.

Special Issues

This year organizers have the pleasure to offer participants the possibility to submit their work to the following two special issues;

Journal Name: Sustainability

Title: "Geopolitical Risk in Emerging Economies"

Submission via e-mail. E-mail: gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se /victor.troster@uib.es

Deadline: July 30, 2020

Journal Name: Entropy

Title: "Entropy, Network and information theory"

Submission via e-mail. gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se / stelios.bekiros@eui.eu

Deadline: July 30, 2020

CONTACT

gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se

Dinner registration (Fee €100)

Axel Hedström

E-mail: axel.hedstrom@liu.se

Deadline: 06 March 2020

The Division of Economics is part of the Department of Management and Engineering and carries out education and research within the field of economics. The Division of Economics gives courses in 11 different programs. Economics is a key area in the Business program, International Business program, Political Science program and the Master's program in Economics with specialization in applied microeconomic analysis and financial economics. The division also offers an Doctoral program in economics with first year mandatory courses including Mathematics, Microeconomic theory, Macroeconomic theory and specialized courses. The division conducts research in a vast number of areas such as financial economics, behavioral economics, environmental economics and labor economics.

Emerging Topics in Financial Economics

Third Symposium at the Division of Economics

Linköping University, Sweden
March 12-13, 2020

CONFERENCE VENUE

Economics Division,
Department of Management and
Engineering

Building A, Campus Valla;
Linköping University, Linköping

The objective of the workshop is to bring together academics, doctoral students and policymakers sharing interests in energy finance, energy transition, financial management, macro-finance, finTech and financial markets. It also provides a forum for presenting new research results or early preliminary results as well as discussing current and challenging issues in financial management and related topics.

The Economics Division at Linköping University warmly invites submissions to the 3rd symposium on Emerging Topics in Financial Economics. Particularly, contributions on the following topics:

LANGUAGE

English

PARTICIPATION FEE

None

We don't offer travel grant and accommodation.

Registration is required for participants

- Transition in energy market
- Business cycles and financial integration
- Macroeconomics and business cycle
- Economic uncertainty
- International financial markets
- Sustainable Finance
- Time series econometrics application in economics and finance

ORGANIZER

Gazi Salah Uddin
Ali Ahmed
Göran Hagg

You are cordially invited to submit your research papers (in English only and in PDF files) to the symposium that will take place on 12-13 March 2020 at the Linköping University. Authors are invited to submit their full papers no later than 15 February 2020 (gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se). Acceptance decisions will be announced by 1st of March.

SPECIAL ISSUES

Sustainability
Entropy

Each paper will be allocated 30 minutes, to be divided between the presentation (20 minutes), a discussion by an assigned workshop participant (5 minutes) and a general discussion (5 minutes).

SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Ali Ahmed, Linköping University
Ranadeva Jayasekera, Trinity College
Michal Rubaszek, Warsaw School of Economics
Anapum Datta, Vaasa University
Bo Sjö, Linköping University
Gazi Salah Uddin, Linköping University
Stelios Bekiros, European University Institute
Tapas Mishra, Southampton Business School
Andreas Stephan, Jönköping University
Victor Troster, Universitat de les Illes Balears
Juha Junntila, University of Jyväskylä

There is no workshop fee for paper presenters and discussants. Lunch will be provided only to presenter and discussants. On March 12th, there will be a joint informal dinner at own expenses.

Special Issues

This year organizers have the pleasure to offer participants the possibility to submit their work to the following two special issues;

Journal Name: Sustainability

Title: "Geopolitical Risk in Emerging Economies"

Submission via e-mail. E-mail: gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se /victor.troster@uib.es

Deadline: July 30, 2020

Journal Name: Entropy

Title: "Entropy, Network and information theory"

Submission via e-mail. gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se / stelios.bekiros@eui.eu

Deadline: July 30, 2020

CONTACT

gazi.salah.uddin@liu.se

Dinner registration (Fee €100)

Axel Hedström

E-mail: axel.hedstrom@liu.se

Deadline: 06 March 2020

The Division of Economics is part of the Department of Management and Engineering and carries out education and research within the field of economics. The Division of Economics gives courses in 11 different programs. Economics is a key area in the Business program, International Business program, Political Science program and the Master's program in Economics with specialization in applied microeconomic analysis and financial economics. The division also offers an Doctoral program in economics with first year mandatory courses including Mathematics, Microeconomic theory, Macroeconomic theory and specialized courses. The division conducts research in a vast number of areas such as financial economics, behavioral economics, environmental economics and labor economics.