

Terms and conditions for access to IT resources at Örebro University

These terms and conditions cover resources, services and information owned or administered by Örebro University. Persons authorised to use the University's IT resources are University employees, students, and persons whose access rights have been authorised by the supervisor in charge.

IT resources may not be used in violation of legislation in force, the SUNET policy or Örebro University's guidelines for use. Additional rules may be enforced by schools and the University Library.

Careless use and failure to comply with these terms and conditions as well as instructions given on www.oru.se or inforum.oru.se concerning the use of the University's IT resources, may result in denied access to these resources or in disciplinary and/or legal action.
