

Susie Jentoft

Susie Jentoft is a senior adviser at Statistics Norway within the statistical methods division. She has a background in applied statistics from Victoria University in New Zealand and moved to Norway in 2009. Since then, she has been working at Statistics Norway on all aspects of the statistical production process, from sampling design, to data editing and integration, estimation and dissemination.