

PROGRAM to the 2016 NAFS conference
28-29 November, 2016

PEOPLE MOVING WITH FOOD:
Food, migration and multiculturalism

The Nordic Association for Food Studies (NAFS), founded in Stockholm in December 2009, is an independent network bringing together researchers in the Nordic and Baltic countries. For the first time NAFS will organize a conference in Norway to widen the awareness of the network and explore the potentials for establishing “NAFS Norge”.

NAFS addresses all Nordic food researchers. The conference is interdisciplinary and we wish to gather a network of Nordic scholars, mix perspectives and disciplines such as anthropology, ethnology, history, sociology, archeology, nutrition, design, art etc. Sessions on the 29th of November are opened to everybody.

About NAFS

NAFS is a network consisting of researchers from a broad range of academic disciplines.

The common denominator is an interest in human eating practices and the way meals are purchased, consumed, used or produced. The members of the network also share a common interest in exploring different ways to deepen and expand the understanding of food and meals from a cultural perspective.

The network aims deliberately at being interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary. The idea is to constitute a platform for the exchange of knowledge and ideas in the multifaceted field of food studies.

NAFS has no formal requirements for membership. It is up to each individual to decide if his or her own field of interest fits into that of the network.

Being a NAFS member is not mandatory, but we really hope to meet you all on Monday 28th after session 3 to discuss both NAFS and “NAFS Norge”.
